

Editor's Note

It is my pleasure that I am writing this editorial note for the journal of Gono Bishwabidyalay. This is the bilingual hard covered journal published once in a year and we have changed the size and the format of the present volume. The objectives of this journal are to publish original, review and short articles of all field of science and arts. In this issue a total of 21 papers published after critically reviewed by scientists and experts in respective fields.

Scientific journals are excellent means to convey research findings, latest discoveries and future research prospects to the academicians and researchers. In this way, a journal is conducive to improve the research capabilities and focusing various dimensions of projects.

The present journal has been published on line portal also, however, not indexed in PubMed, Scopus and other available multidisciplinary data base of peer-reviewed literature. Hopefully, we will try to do so in future.

Finally, I would like to thank all the teachers and staff of Gono Bishwabidyalay who enthusiastically provided their valuable effort in publishing this volume of journal.
